

SPACES OF CULTURE

City, Nation, World

edited by

Mike Featherstone and Scott Lash

SAGE Publications Ltd
London • Thousand Oaks • New Delhi

CONTENTS

List of Contributors	vii
Preface	xi
Introduction	1
Mike Featherstone and Scott Lash
Part I Technological Space	14
1 Growth and Failure: The New Political Economy and its Culture	14
Richard Sennett
2 Simulated Sovereignty, Telematic Territoriality: The Political Economy of Cyberspace	27
Timothy W. Luke
3 Digital Networks and Power	49
Saskia Sassen
Part II Cultural Mapping	64
4 The Postmodern Urban Condition	64
Michael Dear and Steven Flusty
5 Roaming the City: Proper Women in Improper Places	86
Hilary Radner
Part III Reflexive Space	101
6 Not All that is Solid Melts into Air: Modernity and Contingency	101
Heidrun Friese and Peter Wagner
7 Moving Culture	116
Ron Eyerman
8 Radiated Identities: In Pursuit of the Temporal Complexity of Conceptual Cultural Practices	138
Barbara Adam

Part IV Cartographies of Nation	159
9 Triumphalist Geographies Michael J. Shapiro	159
10 The Anti-reflexivist Revolution: On the Affirmationism of the New Right Göran Dahl	175
Part V Transcultural Place	194
✧ 11 Transculturality: The Puzzling Form of Cultures Today Wolfgang Welsch	194
12 Towards a Multicultural Conception of Human Rights Boaventura de Sousa Santos	214
13 The Hybridization of Roots and the Abhorrence of the Bush Jonathan Friedman	230
14 Narrating the Postcolonial Couze Venn	257
Index	283