

Medieval Romance, Medieval Contexts

Edited by

RHIANNON PURDIE AND MICHAEL CICHON

D. S. BREWER

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Contributors	viii
Abbreviations	ix
Introduction: Romance and its Medieval Contexts Rhiannon Purdie and Michael Cichon	1
1 The Pleasure of Popular Romance: A Prefatory Essay Derek Pearsall	9
2 Representations of Peasant Speech: Some Literary and Social Contexts for The Taill of Rauf Coilyear Nancy Mason Bradbury	19
3 'As ye have brewd, so shal ye drink': the Proverbial Context of Eger and Grime Michael Cichon	35
4 Ekphrasis and Narrative in Emaré and Sir Eglamour of Artois Nicholas Perkins	47
5 What's in a Name? Anglo-Norman Romances or Chansons de geste ? Marianne Ailes	61
6 'For Goddes loue, sir, mercy!': Recontextualising the Modern Critical Text of Floris and Blancheflor John A. Geck	77
7 Roland in England: Contextualising the Middle English Song of Roland Phillipa Hardman	91
8 Romance Baptisms and Theological Contexts in The King of Tars and Sir Ferumbras Siobhain Bly Calkin	105
9 Modern and Medieval Views on Swooning: the Literary and Medical Contexts of Fainting in Romance Judith Weiss	121
10 Walking (between) the Lines: Romance as Itinerary/Map Robert Rouse	135

11	Romances of Continuity in the English Rous Roll Yin Liu	149
12	'Ex Libris domini duncani / Campbell de glenwrquhay/ miles': The Buik of King Alexander the Conquerour in the household of Sir Duncan Campbell, seventh laird of Glenorchy Emily Wingfield	161
13	'Pur les francs homes amender': Clerical Authors and the Thirteenth-Century Context of Historical Romance Rosalind Field	175
	Index	189