

Handbook of Critical Information Systems Research

Theory and Application

Edited by
Debra Howcroft

Manchester Business School, University of Manchester, UK

Eileen M. Trauth

School of Information Sciences and Technology, Pennsylvania State University, USA

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

| | |
|-----------------------------|------|
| List of figures | vii |
| List of tables | viii |
| List of contributors | ix |

| | | |
|---|--|---|
| 1 | Choosing critical IS research | 1 |
| | Debra Howcroft and Eileen M. Trauth | |

PART I THEORY

| | | |
|----|---|-----|
| 2 | Basic assumptions of the critical research perspectives in information systems | 19 |
| | Dubravka Cecez-Kecmanovic | |
| 3 | Theoretical approaches for researching power and information systems: the benefit of a Machiavellian view | 47 |
| | Leiser O. Silva | |
| 4 | Are social constructivist approaches critical? The case of IS failure | 70 |
| | Nathalie N. Mitev | |
| 5 | Taking a critical linguistic turn: using critical discourse analysis for the study of information systems | 104 |
| | Rosio Alvarez | |
| 6 | Against rules: the ethical turn in information systems | 123 |
| | Alison Adam | |
| 7 | Management fashions and information systems | 132 |
| | Chris Westrup | |
| 8 | Flexibility, freedom and women's emancipation: a Marxist critique of at-home telework | 152 |
| | Anita Greenhill and Melanie Wilson | |
| 9 | Critical management studies: towards a more mature politics | 174 |
| | Christopher Grey | |
| 10 | The wrong trousers? Beyond the design fallacy: social learning and the user | 195 |
| | James Stewart and Robin Williams | |

PART II THEORY AND APPLICATION

| | | |
|----|---|-----|
| 11 | Critical engagement: why, what and how? Geoff Walsham | 225 |
| 12 | Towards critical interpretivism in IS research Bill Doolin and Laurie McLeod | 244 |
| 13 | Consuming passions in the 'global knowledge economy' Helen Richardson | 272 |
| 14 | Rationalities and emotions in IS innovation Chrisanthi Avgerou and Kathy McGrath | 299 |
| 15 | Evaluating e-governance projects in India: a focus on micro-level implementation Shirin Madon | 325 |
| 16 | Rethinking urban poverty: forms of capital, information technology and enterprise development Lynette Kvasny and Lakshman Yapa | 350 |
| 17 | 'Global but local': mediated work in global business organizations Dagfinn Hertzberg and Eric Monteiro | 365 |
| 18 | Competing rationalities: a critical study of telehealth in the UK Ela Klecun | 388 |
| | Index | 417 |