

THE GREAT EXPERIMENT

Labour parties and public policy transformation in Australia and New Zealand

Edited by
Francis G. Castles
Rolf Gerritsen
Jack Vowles

AUCKLAND UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Figures and tables	vii
Preface	ix
1 Introduction: Setting the Scene for Economic and Political Change The Editors	1
2 Economic Reform: Parallels and Divergences Brian Easton and Rolf Gerritsen	22
3 Reshaping the Mechanics of Government Jonathan Boston and John Uhr	48
4 Industrial Relations Reform and the Relative Autonomy of the State Mark Bray and David Neilson	68
5 Labour and Social Policy: Gravediggers or Refurbishers of the Welfare State Francis G. Castles and Ian F. Shirley	88
6 Labour and Green Politics: Contrasting Strategies for Environmental Reform Elim Papadakis and Stephen Rainbow	107
7 Transforming Indigenous Affairs Policy: Labour's Contribution to 'Internal Decolonisation' Richard Mulgan and Will Sanders	129
8 Gender Equity in the Shrinking State: Women and the Great Experiment Jennifer Curtin and Marian Sawyer	149
9 Labour and Foreign Relations Roderic Alley and John Ravenhill	170

10 Electoral Foundations and Electoral Consequences: From Convergence to Divergence Jack Vowles and Ian McAllister	192
11 Conclusion: The Great Experiment in Perspective The Editors	211
References	224
Index	243