

Lawrence and comedy

Edited by

Paul Eggert

University College ADFA

and John Worthen

University of Nottingham

Contents

Note on contributors	page	ix
Acknowledgements		xi
Cue-titles		xiii
Introduction		1
Paul Eggert
1 Drama and mimicry in Lawrence		19
John Worthen
2 Mischief or merriment, amazement and amusement – and malice: Women in Love		45
Howard Mills
3 Comedy and hysteria in Aaron's Rod		70
John Turner
4 D.H.Lawrence and his 'gentle reader': The furious comedy of Mr Noon		89
Lydia Blanchard
5 'Homunculus stirs': Masculinity and the mock-heroic in Birds, Beasts and Flowers		109
Holly Laird
6 Comedy and provisionality: Lawrence's address to his audience and material in his Australian novels		131
Paul Eggert

viii Contents

7	Lawrence's satiric style: Language and voice in St. Mawr Paul Poplawski	158
8	Humour in the letters of D. H. Lawrence Mark Kinkead-Weekes	180
9	Lawrence to Larkin: A changed perspective John Bayley	192
	Index	211