

THE ISLAMIC MOVEMENT IN EGYPT

Perceptions of International Relations
1967-81

Walid Mahmoud Abdelnasser

Sign: Bp. 807
Institut für Orientalistik
a. d. Justus-Liebig-Universität Gießen

AKZ. Nr. 95/18

KEGAN PAUL INTERNATIONAL
London and New York

UNIVERSITÄTSBIBLIOTHEK
MARBURG

BIBLIOTHEK CNMS

in 11.10.77

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	1
I Methodology	3
II Operational definitions	4
III Internal versus external issues	14
IV Documentation	15
V Organization	16
1 A HISTORICAL BACKGROUND	20
I Islam and foreign policy	20
II al-'Afghany, 'Abdu, Rida and the challenges facing the Muslim world	27
III The Muslim Brethren (al-Ikhwan al-Muslimun) (1928-54) and international relations	33
IV The general pattern of the development of al-Ikhwan al-Muslimun 1954-81	56
V al-Jama'at al-Islamiya (the Islamic Associations) in the universities	59
VI Clandestine Islamic organizations	61
2 THE INTERNAL ISSUES OF THE MUSLIM WORLD	65
I The attitude towards the Iranian revolution	65
II Perception of the rest of the Muslim world	77
III The attitude towards selected individual Muslim countries	82

THE ISLAMIC MOVEMENT IN EGYPT

IV The unity of the Muslim world	96
Conclusions	115

3 THE EXTERNAL CHALLENGES FACING THE MUSLIM WORLD 117

I The Israeli Zionist threat	117
II Attitudes towards the West	146
III The Communist challenge	172
Conclusions	184

4 ELEMENTS FOR A GLOBAL VIEW OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS 188

I From 'Liberation' to " Umma '	188
II The concept of ' Jahiliya ' and the perception of the world order	194
III The conception of ' Jihad '	198
IV The conception of international relations	209
V The perception of an international conspiracy against Islam and the Muslim world	218
VI The prospective global role of Islam	228
VII The perception of the relationship between external challenges and internal developments in the Muslim world	237
Conclusions	243

CONCLUSION	247
------------	-----

BIBLIOGRAPHY	263
--------------	-----

ANNEXES	285
---------	-----

1 An index of proper names	287
----------------------------	-----

2 A chronology of main relevant events	290
--	-----

3 A glossary	292
--------------	-----

INDEX	295
-------	-----