

Mervyn Matthews

CLASS AND SOCIETY IN SOVIET RUSSIA

Allen Lane The Penguin Press

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction	xi
PART I · SOVIET SOCIAL STRUCTURE
1. The Demographic Background	3
Population Growth 1914-69	5
The Soviet Population Pyramid, 1966	18
The Nationalities	22
Towns and Villages	25
2. The Official Theory of Classes and Social Development	32
Lenin and Bukharin on Social Diversity	36
Stalin's Formulation	40
Khrushchev's Innovations and the New Criticism	45
3. Worker and Peasant – Some Institutional Distinctions	52
Residence and Employment	53
Working Conditions and Social Insurance	57
Sources of Income	62
Standards of Living	64
Educational Levels	70
4. Soviet Workers, Rich and Poor	72
Income Distribution and Government Policies	73
Poverty in the Working Class	81
The Income of the Privileged	90
Life-Styles and Spending Patterns	93
Life-Styles and Time-Usage	97
5. Soviet Workers – Jobs and Education	108
The Distribution of Skills and Mechanization	110
Occupational Prestige	119

Occupation and Attitudes towards Labour	123
General Education and the Working Class	129
Education and Attitudes towards Labour	133
The Intelligentsia – Size and Definition	141
Employees and Service Workers	148
6. Collective Farm Society	150
The Occupational Structure of the Farm	152
The Income Hierarchy in the Collective Farm	159
The Problem of Regional Variations	164
Life-Styles in the Soviet Village	169
7. The Drift from the Land	187
The Main Currents	188
Some Local Problems – State Farm and Collective Farm	195
The Migrants – Motivation and Age-Groups	198
Settling Down in Town	205
PART II · POLITICS, EDUCATION AND EMPLOYMENT
8. The Party and Society	213
The Party Membership and Social Groups	217
To Join or not to Join	225
Mass Participation – Definitions and Measurement	230
Communists, Komsomol Members and Shockworkers as Activists	243
Attitudes towards Socio-political Activities	247
9. The Soviet School and Society	255
Nursery Schools and Kindergartens	258
General Education	259
(a) Coverage and Social Selection	262
(b) Curricula, Course Differentiation and Special Schools	267
(c) The Part-time Sector	274
Institutions for Technical Training	279
10. Problems of Student Selection	284
The Government and the VUZy	284
Khrushchev's Policies on Student Intakes	288
Students' Social Origins in the Sixties	296
Khrushchev's Schemes Criticized	300
A New Approach	302

Contents

vii

11. From School to Work – Problems of Youth Employment	306
Some Labour-Market Mysteries	308
Two Kinds of Youth Unemployment	311
A Widespread Phenomenon	318
Khrushchev's Palliatives	319
Soviet Youth Employment Services Appear	326
12. Jobs for the Intelligentsia	333
The System of Planning	335
Plan and Reality	337
The Social Response	343
Some Legal Aspects	348
Bibliography of Soviet Publications	353
Bibliography of Non-Soviet Publications	358
Index	361