

Reaching Reconciliation

Churches in the Transition to Democracy
in Eastern and Central Europe

Ed. Lucia Ann McSpadden

Hans Baer

Joan Löfgren

Halina Grzymala-Moszczyńska

Foreword by Barbara Green

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction to 2006 edition by Lucia Ann McSpadden
Foreword by Barbara Green	v
Common experiences and divergent paths in the unexpected revolution	v
A tough choice before the revolutions: to stay or to leave	vi
Credibility during transition	vii
Facing the past	viii
Restitution	ix
No clean hands	x
God and history	xi
Introduction by Lucia Ann McSpadden	xii
References	xii

East German churches in the aftermath of unification

Hans Baer

1. Introduction	3
2. The socio-political context impacting religious life	7
3. The status of Protestant and Catholic churches	13
The social structure of the Evangelical churches	13
Evangelical church-state relations	15
The Evangelical church in an increasingly secularised society	22
A sanctuary for opposition groups:
A new role for the Evangelical churches	23
The role of the Evangelical church during the Wende	28
The Roman Catholic church	33
4. East German Evangelical churches in the united Germany	36
The social structure	36
The crisis of purpose	40
The financial crisis	52
Controversial issues: Religious instruction, military chaplaincy and the Stasi question	58
An overview of three East German parishes	64
5. The Roman Catholic church in the new German states	70
6. Conclusion	72
7. Bibliography	80
List of abbreviations	88

Reconciliation in the shadow of the Soviet past

Joan Löfgren

1. Introduction	93
2. Background on church life	95
Early christianisation	95
Protestantism and Orthodoxy	95
Independence	97
Religion in the Soviet system	104
Characterizing the Soviet system	110
Perestroika and the churches	114
Church life and religious beliefs today	117
3. Essential issues in the transition to democracy	123
The nature of the transition(s)	123
Transitions from socialist/communist systems	127
4. The Orthodox crisis	131
Background	131
The church under communism	133
The church in the transition	135
Key actors and interests	138
Implications for this study	143
5. The Lutheran and other churches	149
The Lutheran church	151
Other churches	163
6. Reflections and conclusions	173
Complicity under Soviet rule	173
Reflection on the reconciliation process	177
The role of the churches in reconciliation	180
Visions of a reconciled society	180
7. Bibliography	182

The Polish church in the reconciliation process

Halina Grzymala-Moszczyńska

1. Introduction	191
2. Historical context	193
Partitions of Poland	193
Regaining independence	196
Second World War	198
Religious and political situation after World War II	198
Uneasy position of the state towards the church's strength	201

Polarisation of the Polish life	202
Multiple roles of the Roman Catholic church under communism	206
3. Legitimisation of the role of the church	212
The church after 1989	213
The process of the polarisation of the church	215
4. Success and failure of reconciliation	232
5. Bibliography	235
About the authors	239
LPI Publications	241