

---

EASTERN EUROPE, THE FORMER SOVIET UNION AND WORLD AGRICULTURAL MARKETS

Ivan Roberts
Jayantha Kottegé
Graeme Tie

ABARE RESEARCH REPORT 93.18

---

Contents

Summary	1
1 Introduction	15
2 Political and economic changes in the region	19
Characteristics of the system that existed before the reforms	19
Reform measures required for the operation of a free market economic system	21
Progress toward reform	29
Impediments to reform and economic restructuring	40
3 Agricultural trade in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union: a historical perspective	42
Agricultural trade of the former Soviet Union	44
Agricultural trade of Eastern European countries	53
Recent developments in the agricultural trade of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union	59
4 Agricultural production and consumption in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union	65
The organisation of agriculture	65
Production of farm products	66
Consumption of agricultural commodities in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet	75
5 Developments and reforms in agricultural policy	79
Eastern Europe	80
The former Soviet Union	96

---

6	Key factors influencing Eastern European agriculture	103
	Economies of large scale production	103
	Land market and property rights	105
	Monopoly power of upstream and downstream industries	105
	Product mix	106
	Agricultural support	106
7	Impact of potential Eastern European entry to the European Community	109
	Factors which could facilitate entry to the European Community	110
	Factors which could hinder entry to the European Community	111
	Likely effects of entry to the European Community on agriculture in Eastern Europe	112
	A quantitative assessment of entry of certain Eastern European countries to the European Community	117
8	World agricultural markets and developments in the former Soviet Union	128
	Factors affecting supply	129
	Factors affecting demand	131
	Foreign exchange earnings and agricultural imports	139
	Economic cooperation and trade among former Soviet republics	141
	Implications for commodities	143
9	Conclusions	152
Appendixes
A	General representation of the operation of a centrally planned economy	151
B	An empirical description of historical Soviet grain import behaviour	156

---

---

References	165
------------	-----

Box

1 Modelling framework	120
-----------------------	-----

Figures

A Former Soviet Union: profile of agricultural and energy trade	48
B Former Soviet Union: terms of trade with market economies	49
C Australian wool exports	63
D Former Soviet Union: harvested area, production and average yield	71

Tables

1 Progress of reforms in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union	30
2 Changes in output of Eastern European countries and the former Soviet Union	31
3 Major temperate agricultural products: world imports, imports by the former Soviet Union and net trade by the EC-12	43
4 Net imports by the former Soviet Union as a percentage of total world imports	44
5 Eastern Europe and former Soviet Union: population and production, consumption and trade in major agricultural commodities	45
6 Contribution of the former Soviet Union to changes in world imports (excluding intra-EC trade) of major temperate zone agricultural products	46
7 Changes in volume of world imports and imports by the former Soviet Union between the early 1970s and the first half of the 1980s	47
8 Changes in imports by the former Soviet Union and in external trade by the European Community	47

---

---

9	Imports of agricultural products by the former Soviet Union in 1988	51
10	Volume of EC exports to the former Soviet Union	52
11	Eastern European countries: value of exports and imports of agricultural products and of food excluding fish	54
12	Eastern European agricultural exports to the European Community	56
13	Eastern European agricultural imports from the European Community	57
14	EC exports to Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union as a percentage of total EC exports: selected major agricultural items	58
15	Agricultural arrangements and agreements between the EC and Eastern European countries	60
16	EC agricultural trade concessions for Hungary and Poland agreed in 1989	60
17	Wool imports by Eastern European countries	62
18	Average size of holding in Eastern Europe, the former Soviet Union and the EC-10, 1985	66
19	Land endowment per person in Eastern Europe, the former Soviet Union, the United States and selected Western European countries	67
20	Agricultural production in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union	70
21	Grain yields and fertiliser use in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union	72
22	Animal numbers (all classes of farms) in the former Soviet Union	74
23	Consumption of animal and vegetable products in 1984-86 in Eastern Europe, the Soviet Union and selected Western countries	76
24	Consumption of livestock and vegetable products in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union	77

---

---

25	Indexes of prices received by farmers for agricultural products, prices paid for agricultural inputs and prices for industrial products in Poland	82
26	Index of ratio of prices received for major agricultural products to prices paid for farm inputs in Hungary	86
27	Relative prices received by farmers for major agricultural products	112
28	Simulated effects on world market prices of entry by Poland, Hungary and the Czech and Slovak Republics to the European Community	123
29	Estimated effects of entry by Poland, Hungary and Czech and Slovak Republics to the European Community on the value of Australian production and exports	125
30	Soviet republics: estimated surplus/deficit situation for selected commodities	136