

The Space of Culture – the Place of Nature in Estonia and Beyond

Edited by
TIINA PEIL

TARTU UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Notes on the Editors and Contributors	7
Acknowledgements	10
Introduction Tiina Peil	11
Humanities and Ecossemiotics
Eight Historical Paradigms of the Human Sciences Roland Posner	20
Pre-modern Ecossemiotics: The Green World as Literary Ecology Alfred K. Siewers	39
Foundations for Ecossemiotic Deep Ecology Kalevi Kull	69
Constructing Nature
The Positioning on the Landscape of Culture and Mind: Methods for the Social Construction of Nature Maaris Raudsepp	78
Mapping Human Impact – Expanding Horizons: Interdisciplinary Integration Morten Tønnessen	93
Writing the Environment: Finnish Written Nature Narratives Kirsi Laurén	107
Landscapes and Environmental Change
Changes of Environment in the Stockholm Region: Preconditions and Perspectives Urve Miller, Jan Risberg, Sven Karlsson	122
Jōmon Style and Yayoi Style: A Worldview Transition within Neolithisation in the Japanese Archipelago Junzo Uchiyama	136
The Civilising Hero, a Question of Domestication in Yakutia Emilie Maj	153
Fire Cultivation in Estonian Cultural Landscapes Liisi Jääts, Marge Konsa, Kersti Kihno, Pille Tomson	165
A World of Domesticated Landscapes Mats Widgren	181
Index	186