

From Racism to Genocide

Anthropology in the Third Reich

Gretchen E. Schafft

University of Illinois Press
Urbana and Chicago

Contents

Preface ix

Abbreviations xiii

Introduction 1

1. The Jews of the Tarnów Ghetto 15
 2. Anthropology in Germany before the Second World War:
The Kaiser Wilhelm Institute 37
 3. The Rise of Hitler and His Embrace of Anthropology 61
 4. The Discovery in the Smithsonian 84
 5. Population Selection and Relocation in the Midst of War 115
 6. Anthropology and Medicine in the Third Reich 152
 7. The End of the War and the Aftermath 176
 8. Race and Racism 200
 9. Professional Denial, Civic Denial, and a Responsible
Anthropology 222
- Epilogue 247

Appendixes

1. Anthropologists' Activities in the Third Reich 257
2. Chronology of the Third Reich 258

Bibliography 271

Index 285