Population studies, No. 46

Demographic implications of social exclusion in central and eastern Europe

Péter Szivós
Cristina Giudici

Directorate General III – Social Cohesion

Council of Europe Publishing

Table of contents

		Page
Foreword		3
Executive summary (Cristina Giudici and Péter Szivós)		9
I. Income poverty in central and eastern Europe (Péter Szivós)
1.	Introduction	17
2.	Country classification	17
3.	Macroeconomic framework	19
4.	Poverty on the social agenda	20
5.	Poverty incidence	21
6.	Poverty profile	26
7.	Country examples	28
	7.1 "The former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia"	28
	7.2 Latvia	30
	7.3 Hungary	32
	7.4 Russian Federation	42
8.	Some facts about social benefit systems	43
	8.1 Family benefits	44
	8.2 Unemployment	45
9.	Conclusions	45
References		47
List of tables
1.	Poverty risk and shares of poverty for households with children in central and eastern European countries, second half of 1990s	27
2.	Poverty risk and shares of the elderly in central and eastern European countries, second half of 1990s	28
3.	Poverty ratio for various household types in Latvia, 1996-2000	31
4.	Minimum pension and subsistence minimum in Hungary 1995-2000	33
5.	Trends of various poverty indices using different poverty lines, Hungary, 1995-2000	34
6.	Selected Laeken indicators for Hungary 2000/01	35
7.	Poverty rates by labour market position in Hungary	38
8.	Poverty rates related to children in Hungary	40

9. Poverty rates including and excluding family allowance in Hungary, 1994-1999 42
10. Poverty and income distribution in the Russian Federation, 1992-1999 43

II. Multiple social disadvantage in central and eastern Europe (Cristina Giudici)

Executive Summary 51
1. Background 55
1.1. Origin of the study 55
1.2. The demographic context 56
1.2.1. Recent demographic trends 56
1.2.2. Regional analysis 59
1.3. Social and economic context 60
2. Concepts, data and methods 62
2.1. Conceptual Issues 62
2.2. Subjective versus objective indicators 62
2.3. Methodology 64
2.4. Data sources 66
3. Deprivation and social exclusion dimensions 67
3.1. Unemployment 67
3.2. Income 69
3.3. Education 70
3.4. Health conditions 72
3.5. Housing conditions 75
4. Measuring social deprivation in selected regions 79
4.1. Partial indicator of unemployment 79
4.2. Partial indicator of education 83
4.3. Partial indicator of health 84
4.4. Composite deprivation index 88
5. National studies 92
5.1. The Baltic states 92
5.2. The Czech Republic 95
5.3. Hungary 97
Conclusions 99
References 108

List of tables

1. Crude mortality rate and infant mortality rate, 1980-2001 59
2. Demographic indicators: averages, 2001 59
3. Demographic indicators: regional variations, 2001 60
4. Percentage of people with low confidence in the education, social security and health care system 61
5. Summary table of regional databases 66
6. Registered unemployed (as a percentage of labour force at the end of each year), selected countries, 1994, 1998, 2000 68
7. Unemployment rate, selected countries, 2000 69
8. Composition of population aged 15-64, according to education level, selected countries, 2000 70
9. Share of population aged 25-29 with only primary education, by sex (2000) 71
10. Infant mortality rate, per 1 000 live births 73
11. Life expectancy 1980-2000 – males 73
12. Life expectancy 1980-2000 – females 74
13. Share of GDP dedicated to health care 75
14. Beds in hospitals per 100 000 inhabitants 75
15. Dwelling stock 76
16. Lack of basic amenities in selected central and eastern European countries 77
17. Household ownership in selected countries 78
18. Share of owners by household size in selected countries 79
19. Social deprivation index (SDI) 87
20. Self assessment of health by demographic and socio-economic groups, Latvia, 1999 94
21. Partial and composite social exclusion indicator in the Czech Republic, 1999 94
22. Indicators of social exclusion in the Czech Republic, 1999 95
23. Regions falling within the first fourth of the distribution of the partial indicators I1 ; I2 ; I3 ; I4 and SEI 96
24. Regions falling within the last fourth of the distribution of the partial indicators I1 ; I2 ; I3 ; I4 and SEI 96
25. Partial and composite social exclusion indicators in the Czech Republic, 1999 97
26. Partial and composite social exclusion indicators in Hungary, 1999 98

List of figures

1. Crude marriage rate: marriages per 1 000 inhabitants 1980-2001 57
2. Total fertility rate 1980-2001 58
3. Typologies of welfare position 63
4. Share of local governments in total government expenditure on education, late 1990s (%) 72
5. Dwelling by period of construction 77
6. Number of regions and population in each tenth of the partial indicator of unemployment distribution (2000) 79
7. Regional distribution according to general and female unemployment level (2000) 80
8. Regional distribution according to general and youth unemployment level (2000) 81
9. Partial indicator of unemployment, quartile distribution, risk groups (2000) 82
10. Number of regions and population in each tenth of the partial indicator of education distribution (2000) 83
11. Partial indicator of education, quartile distribution, risk groups (2000) .. 84
12. Number of regions and population in each tenth of the health distribution (2000) 85
13. Partial indicator of health, quartile distribution, risk groups (2000) 86
14. Regional distribution according to Social Deprivation Index and standardised GDP (2000) 89
15. Social deprivation index (SDI), quartile distribution, risk groups (2000) 90
16. Social deprivation index and GDP rank in selected regions (2000) 91
17. Self assessment on health by sex and age 93

The authors 111

Titles in the same collection 112