

LATVIJAS NACIONĀLAIS VĒSTURES MUZEJS

IRITA ŽEIERE

ARHEOLOĢISKĀS LIECĪBAS
PAR APĢĒRBU LATVIJĀ
13.–18. GADSIMTĀ

RĪGA 2008

Saturs

Ievads	7
Kas šobrīd zināms par seno apģērbu	9
Ieskats Latvijas arheoloģisko tekstiliju pētniecības vēsturē	12
Izmantotie materiāli, audumu veidi	16
Lini un linu izstrādājumi	17
Vilna un tās izstrādājumi	20
Celaines un audenes	23
Adījumi	28
Vienas adatas pinumi	29
Adījumi ar adāmadatām	30
Apģērba rotājumi un apdare	35
Citas liecības par apģērbu	44
13.–18. gadsimta tekstilmateriālu analīze	47
Krekli	48
Brunči	50
Villaines	53
Priekšauti	68
Tekstilās jostas	73
Sietavas	76
Apavi	83
Galvassegas un galvasrotas	85
Secinājumi	99
Summary	102
List of illustrations	114
Pielikums	117
13.–18. gadsimta tekstilmateriālu un tērpu detaļu atradumu vietu saraksts	128
Izmantotie avoti un literatūra	130

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

- Fig. 1. Fragment of checked fabric, where the linen yarn has decayed. Rūšiši-Debeši, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 2. Three fragments of linen fabric, found together. Rūšiši-Debeši, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 3. Fragments of different linen fabrics. Darvdedži, Burial 3. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 4. Fragment of linen fabric woven in Rippenköper. Beites, Burial 3. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 5. Fragment of woollen fabric with plied yarn in one direction. Lejaskrogs, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 6. Samples of 2/2 diamond twill fabric
A – Laukumuiža, Burial 15. Photo: M. Pluka
B – Ance, Burial 6. Photo: R. Kaniņš
C – Drawing of a section of irregular diamond twill fabric. Ance, Burial 6, 1st shawl. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 7. Scheme of the shawl from Burial 9 at Laukumuiža, showing the starting border, before the tablet-woven bands. Reconstructed by I. Žeiere. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 8. Fabric fragment with plaited selvedge. Ance, Burial 6. Photo: L. Spure
- Fig. 9. Edges of the tubular selvedge of a woollen fabric. Užava, Burial 20. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 10. A – Fragments of a monocolour tablet-woven band with horsehair weft. Lejaskrogs, stray find
B – Fragments of a patterned tablet-woven band. Laukumuiža, Burial 27. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 11. A – Fragments of tablet-woven band with loops. Ance, Burial 6. Photo: R. Kaniņš
B – Reconstruction of the tablet-woven band. Drawing: L. Treija
- Fig. 12. Separately made tablet-woven band with a fringe, for the end of a shawl. Madliena, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 13. Method of weaving on the tablet-woven trim for the side edge of a shawl. Ance, Burial 6. Reconstructed by I. Žeiere. Drawing: L. Treija
- Fig. 14. Fragments of tablet-woven shawl trims, decorated with bronze loops. Lejaskrogs, stray finds. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 15. Fragment of textured monocolour tablet-woven band. Laukumuiža, Burial 4. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 16. Tablet-woven band with herringbone pattern, from a patterned shawl. Skubiņi, Burial 3. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 17. Fragments of shawls trimmed with woven bands
A – Pļavniekkalns, stray find
B – Ozolmuiža, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 18. Woven band of wool and linen. Lejaskrogs, Burial 136. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 19. Fragment of naalbinding. Lejaskrogs, Burial 110. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 20. Fragment of knitted glove. Vārnupe, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 21. Pair of knitted gloves. Lielvārde, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 22. A – Left hand mitten. Livāni, Burial 3. Photo: R. Kaniņš
B – Left hand glove. Livāni, Burial 3. Photo: R. Kaniņš
C – Scheme of sections of purled for a glove. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 23. A – Fragments of knitted gloves. Lejaskrogs, Burial 142. Photo: R. Kaniņš
B – Reconstruction of the glove design. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 24. A – Fragment of knitted sock. Gaisiņi, Burial 24. Photo: R. Kaniņš
B – Reconstruction of the sock design. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 25. Fragment of fabric vainags headdress with disintegrated remains of tin decoration. Lejaskrogs, Burial 46. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 26. 13th–17th century tin (A–F) and bronze (F) decorations and reconstructions of them
A – Darvdedži, Burial 3
B – Lejaskrogs Burial 130
C – Sēlpils, Burial 186
D – Augustiņišķi, Burial 103
E – Sēlpils, Burial 173
F – Lejaskrogs, Burial 130. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 27. A – Fragments of an appendage from a vainags headdress, consisting of threaded spirals
B – Vainags headdress appendages with threaded spirals at the ends. Lejaskrogs, Burial 118. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 28. The corner of a shawl with an attached row of spirals along the edge. Laukumuiža, Burial 9. Photo: M. Pluka ?
- Fig. 29. Fragment of the end of a shawl, with a band of metal loops threaded onto the warp threads. Užavas centrs, Burial 20. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 30. Fragment of the end of an undecorated shawl, with a band of chainstitch above the fringe. Skubiņi, Burial 3. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 31. Bands of embroidery on patterned shawls
A – Beites, Burial 3
B – Skubiņi, Burial 3. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 32. Fragment of the edge of a lined fabric, trimmed with a plait. Greivulji, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 33. Card-woven trims of the edge of a garment and remains of tin decoration. Lejaskrogs, Burial 142. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 34. Garment edges overcast in braided stitch
A – Lejaskrogs, Burial 136
B – Užava, Burial 20. Photo: R. Kaniņš
C – Scheme of the braided stitching. Reconstructed by I. Heinola. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 35. Garment edge overcast in buttonhole stitch. Lejaskrogs, Burial 142. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 36. Decorative overcasting of a garment edge using coloured thread. Jaunbēzkalni, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 37. The side edge of a shawl with a tablet-woven trim and twisted threads sewn onto the fabric. Augustiņišķi, Burial 50. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 38. Wrong side of a lined fabric, carelessly worked. Greivulji, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš

- Fig. 39. The edge of a garment, with a sewn-on row of hooks. Varmākas, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 40. Forms of bronze hooks
A – Dārznieki, Burial 4
B – Lejaskrogs, Burial 2. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 41. A bronze spiral headdress placed on the pelvis. Laukumuiža, Burial 23. After AA 269
- Fig. 42. Metal decoration of leather belts in situ. Lejaskrogs, Burial 109. Photo: A. Vijups
- Fig. 43. Opening of a linen shirt, with edges folded back and sewn, fastened with a brooch. reverse side. Rūsiši-Debeši, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 44. Fragment of decorative overcasting. Lejaskrogs, Burial 134. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 45. Reconstruction of female dress, showing a form of wrap-around skirt fastened on one shoulder. Reconstructed by A. Zariņa after material excavated in Riga. Drawing: L. Treija
- Fig. 46. Fragments of a skirt hem, showing the edge of a tubular selvedge. Ance, Burial 6. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 47. A – Penannular brooch with loops of thread. Photographer unknown
B – Fabric fragment with additional threads forming loops. Landze, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 48. A – Tablet-woven trims from the side edge of a shawl, with an attached brooch. Augustinišķi, Burial 7
B – Corner of a woollen shawl with a fringe and attached brooch. Augustinišķi, Burial 140. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 49. Fragment of an undecorated shawl with a card-woven trim along the side edge. Beites, Burial 3. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 50. Shawl fragment with coloured thread sewn onto the side edges of the fabric. Ozolmuiža, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 51. End fragment of an undecorated shawl. Lejaskrogs, Burial 118. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 52. Fragment of a patterned shawl, folded. Lejaskrogs, Burial 136. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 53. Fragment of a checked shawl. Beites, Burial 3.
- Fig. 54. Fragment of a band of patterning on a shawl. Beites, Burial 3. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 55. Fragment from the side edge of a shawl, with bronze rings wound around a card-woven band. Broči, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 56. A – Side edge of a shawl, with bronze rods woven into it.
B – Corner of a shawl, with linked sections of fringe. Padure. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 57. End fragment of a shawl, with three tablet-woven trims, decorated with bronze loops woven into the trims. Ance, Burial 6. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 58. Corner fragment of a shawl, with tablet-woven trims decorated with bronze loops. Ance, Burial 6. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 59. A – End fragment of a woollen shawl, with warp threads woven through a tablet-woven band, forming a short looped fringe. Ance, Burial 6
B – End fragment of a woollen shawl, with a short looped fringe. Laukumuiža, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 60. A – Reconstructed shawl. Ance, Burial 6. Reconstruction by I. Žeiere. Photo: R. Kaniņš
B – Scheme of the shawl. Drawing: L. Treija
- Fig. 61. Shawl fragments. Puzes Lejaskrogs, Burial 130
A – Folded part of the fabric
B – The shawl fragments after flattening. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 62. Side edge of a shawl with card-woven trims and remains of tin decorations sewn onto the fabric. Ance, Burial 6. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 63. A – Corner embellishment of a shawl, of threaded bronze spirals. Lejaskrogs, stray find B – Corner of a shawl, with decoration of spirals. Ance, Burial 6.
C – Spirals threaded onto linen threads. Tojāti, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 64. Hem of an excavated apron in situ. Lejaskrogs, Burial 113. Photo: A. Vijups
- Fig. 65. Remains of the hem decoration of an apron. Lejaskrogs, Burial 113. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 66. Apron decoration schemes
A – Lejaskrogs, Burial 113
B – Užava, Burial 49
C – Lejaskrogs, Burial 136. Reconstructed by I. Žeiere. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 67. A – Fragments of tablet-woven belts. Ance, Burial 6. Photo: R. Kaniņš
B – Reconstructed section of the belt pattern. Reconstructed by I. Žeiere. Drawing: L. Treija
- Fig. 68. Fragment of a tablet-woven band. Lejaskrogs, Burial 134. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 69. Fragment of a woven belt. Gaisiņi, Burial 26. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 70. Woven belt with sewn-on bronze decoration. Slutišķi, Burial 128. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 71. A – Legbindings of Burial 27, Laukumuiža in situ. Photo: E. Freiberga
B – Reconstruction of the design of the ends of the legbindings. Reconstructed by A. Siliņa. After E. Šnore, Dundagas kājauti 1938
- Fig. 72. A – Legbinding with the hem of the skirt visible at the top, along with the shawl fabric stuck to it and the tablet-woven bands of the legbinding at the bottom. Ance, Burial 6. Photo: R. Kaniņš
B – Reconstruction of the decoration at the end of the puttee. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 73. A – Legbindings from a destroyed burial at Lejaskrogs in situ. Photo: A. Vijups
B – Reconstruction of the decoration at the end of the legbindings. Reconstructed by I. Žeiere. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
- Fig. 74. Fragments of footcloth fabric. Lejaskrogs, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 75. Legbindings fragment. Lejaskrogs, Burial 82. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 76. The legs of Burial 130 at Lejaskrogs, with uncovered remains of legbindings, the decorated side edge of the shawl and bronze buckles of the footwear in situ. Photo: A. Vijups
- Fig. 77. Bronze buckles from footwear
A – Lejaskrogs, Burial 147 stray finds. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnīte
B – Buckles differing in form, from Darvedži, Burial 3. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 78. Cords of the appendages of a fabric vainags headdress. Veselava, Burial 2. Photo: R. Kaniņš

- Fig. 79. Fragments of a woven band from a vainags headdress. Madalāni II, Burial 1. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 80. Fabric vainags, in situ. Lejaskrogs, Burial 128. Photo: A. Vijups
- Fig. 81. Vainags appendages among shawl fabrics. Lejaskrogs, Burial 118. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 82. Headdresses of bronze spirals in situ
A – Laukumuiža, Burial 15
B – Laukumuiža, Burial 3. Photo: M. Pluka
- Fig. 83. Bronze chains and various elements of vainagi headdresses of spirals. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnite
A – Laukumuiža, Burial 27
B – Laukumuiža, Burial 3
C – Laukumuiža, Burials 9 and 23
- Fig. 84. Headdress of bronze spirals from the hoard found on Puze Hillfort. Photo: A. Vijups
- Fig. 85. Reconstruction of a headdress of bronze spirals, drawn by A. Birģele-Paegle. After AA 268
- Fig. 86. Fragment of a vainags headdress of bronze plaquettes. Lejaskrogs, Burial 117. Photo: A. Vijups
- Fig. 87. Fragment of a vainags headdress of bronze plaquettes, with a coloured thread along the top. Lejaskrogs, Burial 125. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnite
- Fig. 88. A – Fragment of a metal band vainags headdress. Sermuļi, Burial 7. Photo: R. Kaniņš
B – Variants of the elements of the metal band vainags headdress. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnite
- Fig. 89. Fragment of a knitted cap, with remains of sewn-on decoration. Greivuiļi, Burial 1. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 90. Cap fragment. Sappi, Burial 6. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. 91. Decoration from the rim of a cap. Lejaskrogs, Burial 116. Photo: G. Zariņa
- Cover Replica of a legbinding from Laukumuiža, Burial 27, made at the Latvian Chamber of Crafts before 1940. Photo: R. Kaniņš

Appendix

- Fig. I Costume of a Courland maiden of the late 16th century. Author unknown, 1st half of 19th century. CVVM 224406, ZAE 1
- Fig. II Reconstruction of ancient dress by F. Kruse. After Kruse 1859
- Fig. III Reconstructions of ancient Latvian dress by A. Baumanis. CVVM 239830 and 239831
- Fig. IV Reconstructions of Latgallian dress by V. Ģinters. After Ģinters 1936
- Fig. V Reconstruction of 14th century female dress by I. Žeiere, based on the excavated finds from Ance, Burial 6. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnite
- Fig. VI Replica of the shawl. Beites, Burial 3. Reconstructed by I. Žeiere, woven by D. Pārupe. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. VII Reverse side of a shawl, showing the pattern of embroidery threads. Replica. Skubiņi, Burial 3. Sewn by I. Svarinska. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. VIII Replica gloves made in naalbinding technique. One the gloves has been felted. Based on excavated finds from Riga. Made by E. Boikova. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. IX A – Fragment of knitted garment. Bēķi, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
B – Reconstruction of the knitting design. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnite
- Fig. X Shawl replica. Skubiņi, Burial 3. Reconstructed by A. Zariņa. Made by D. Pārupe, D. Kalniņš and I. Svarinska. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. XI A – Reconstructed scheme of the 2nd shawl from Burial 6, Ance
B – Reconstructed scheme of the 3rd shawl from Ance. Burial 6, Reconstructed by I. Žeiere. Drawing: L. Treija
- Fig. XII Fragments of tablet-woven bands decorated with bronze loops. Landze, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. XIII Fragments of a tablet-woven belt. Lielvārde, stray find. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. XIV Reconstruction of a fragment of a tablet-woven belt. Madona, Burial 80. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnite
- Fig. XV Partially reconstructed fabric vainags headdress. Strūgukalns, Burial 15. Photo: R. Kaniņš
- Fig. XVI A – Fragment of a fabric vainags headdress with a brocade band. Madona, Burial 88. Photo: R. Kaniņš.
B – Reconstruction of the vainags. Drawing: A. Alksne-Alksnite