

Beyond Post-Soviet Transition

Micro Perspectives on Challenge and Survival in Russia and Estonia

edited by

Risto Alapuro, Ilkka Liikanen and Markku Lonkila

Contents

List of Tables, Maps, and Figures 5

Acknowledgments 7

1 Introduction: Studying Post-Soviet Transition 11
Risto Alapuro, Ilkka Liikanen and Markku Lonkila

Part I Responses in National Context

2 Self-Identity Frames in the Soldiers' Mothers
Movement in Russia 21
Elena Zdravomyslova

3 Voluntary Association and the Redefinition of Post-Soviet Political Space 42
Ilkka Liikanen

4 Work-Related Ties in the Everyday Life of a Russian Karelian Mill Community 64
Minna Piipponen

5 X The Role of the Trade Union in a Bilingual Tallinn Factory 84
Markku Lonkila

6 X Russians' and Estonians' Networks in a Tallinn Factory 101
Risto Alapuro and Markku Lonkila

Part II Responses in International Context

7 X Ethnicity and Citizenship in the Borderlands between Estonia, Latvia, and Russia 128
Laura Assmuth

8 X The Disruption of Social and Geographic Space in Narva 148
Elena Nikiforova

9	X Ethnic Claims and Local Politics in Northeastern Estonia Eiki Berg and Allan Sikk	165
10	X International Dimensions in the Position of the Russian-Speaking Minority in Estonia Anna Korhonen	188
11	X Civil Society and EU Integration of Estonia Kristi Raik	208
	Appendix: Questionnaire of the Project “Civic Culture and Nationality in North-West Russia and Estonia”	237
	Contributors	244
	Index	246