

Historical Concepts
between Eastern and
Western Europe

Edited by Manfred Hildermeier

Berghahn Books
New York • Oxford

Contents

Editorial Preface Jane Caplan, Timothy Garton Ash, Jürgen Kocka, Gerhard Ritter, Nicholas Stargardt and Margit Szöllösi-Janze	vii
Introduction Manfred Hildermeier	1
1 National Socialist and Stalinist Rule: The Possibilities and Limits of Comparison Ulrich Herbert	5
2 Burgher and Town: Typological Differences and Functional Equivalents Manfred Hildermeier	23
3 Republicanism versus Monarchy? Government by Estates in Poland-Lithuania and the Holy Roman Empire, Sixteenth to Eighteenth Centuries Michael G. Müller	36
4 The Impact of Religion on the Revolutions in France (1789) and Russia (1905/17) Martin Schulze Wessel	48
5 Dictatorships of Unambiguity: Cultural Transfer from Europe to Russia and the Soviet Union, 1861–1953 Jörg Baberowski	59

6	Europe and the Culture of Borders: Rethinking Borders after 1989 Karl Schlögel	73
7	Civil Society in Nineteenth-Century Europe: Comparison and Beyond Jürgen Kocka	85
	Bibliography	101
	Notes on Contributors	117
	Index	121