

Art and Adaptability

Consciousness and Cognitive Culture

By

Gregory F. Tague

BRILL
RODOPI

LEIDEN | BOSTON

Contents

Acknowledgements IX

Simplified Radiations of Select Primate Species X

Simplified Radiations of Select Hominin Species XI

The Long Pleistocene XII

Introduction: Setting Boundaries 1

1 Intelligence: Communication and Theory of Mind 8

Great Ape Intelligence and Communication 9

Symbolic Communication and Consciousness 14

Inter-Subjectivity and Evolution 17

Great Ape Theory of Mind 20

Human Theory of Mind 25

Artificial Intelligence 33

The Anthropocentric Attitude 39

Chapter One Dovetail 41

2 Culture: The Adapted Mind 42

Human Network: Scope and Scale 42

Symbolic Culture 43

Culture and the Adapted Mind 47

Gene/Culture Co-Evolution 52

Culture and Social Selection 56

Culture and Epigenetics 59

Mind Sharing 63

Chapter Two Dovetail 66

3 Adaptive Functions: Selection and the Human Psyche 67

Adaptation and Natural Selection Defined 68

Phenomenal Consciousness 70

Adaptive Problems and Questions 73

Darwin and Natural Selection 77

Darwin and Sexual Selection 79

Selection and Tools 83

Cognition, Cooperation, and Extended Evolution 87

Making Special 92

Pleistocene Landscape Preferences 94

Can We Define Art?	96
Neanderthals and Art	99
Cave Painting and Superstition	101
Art and Altered States of Consciousness	106
Cave Art and Images	110
Art and the Human Psyche	114
Beauty, the Brain, and the Body	116
Chapter Three Dovetail	119
4 Objections: Philosophy and Byproducts	120
Philosophy and Art	120
Pinker's Cheesecake for the Mind	125
An Art Instinct?	128
Corrective to Art as Sexual Selection	129
Humanology	131
Social Selection Over Sexual Selection?	131
The Biology of Art as Speculative?	132
Two Hypotheses	134
Explanatory Dilemma	136
Chapter Four Dovetail	137
5 Neurobiology and Cognition: Consciousness and Representation	138
Artistic Behavior and the Social Brain	138
The Subject of Aesthetics	143
Orienting Creative Cognition	147
Art, Ambiguity, and Making Meaning	150
Representation and Metarepresentation	155
Bodily and Cultural Consciousness	158
Line or Color?	161
Seeing Reality Abstractly	163
Knowledge, Beauty, and Neutrality	165
From Discontinuity to Essence	166
Brain Sight and Insight	169
Beauty and Cognitive Emotions	171
Ritual Art	174
Chapter Five Dovetail	176
Conclusion: The Arts and Sciences	177
Bibliography	181
Index	201