Quality-Driven Query Answering for Integrated Information Systems

Springer

Contents

Part I. Querying the Web

1 Introduction . . . 3
- 1.1 Centralized Databases Vs. the World Wide Web . . . 4
- 1.2 Information Quality on the Web . . . 5
- 1.3 Problem Definition . . . 7
- 1.4 Thesis Outline . . . 8

2 Integrating Autonomous Information Sources . . . 11
- 2.1 The Mediator-Wrapper Architecture . . . 12
- 2.2 The Universal Relation . . . 12
- 2.3 Information Overlap . . . 19
- 2.4 Applications . . . 21
- 2.5 Related Work . . . 23
- 2.6 Summary . . . 25

Part II. Information Quality

3 Information Quality Criteria . . . 29
- 3.1 Information Quality Criteria for the Web . . . 30
- 3.2 Information Quality Assessment . . . 39
- 3.3 Summary . . . 50

4 Quality Ranking Methods . . . 51
- 4.1 Quality Model . . . 51
- 4.2 Scaling Methods . . . 52
- 4.3 User Weighting . . . 55
- 4.4 Ranking Methods . . . 56
- 4.5 Comparison and Evaluation . . . 62
- 4.6 Summary . . . 66

Part III. Quality-Driven Query Answering

5 Quality-Driven Query Planning . . . 69
5.1 Logical Query Planning . . . 69
5.2 Attaching Quality Reasoning to Query Planning . . . 75
5.3 Integrating Quality Reasoning and Query Planning . . . 79
5.4 Related Work . . . 86
5.5 Summary . . . 87

6 Query Planning Revisited . . . 89
6.1 Shortcomings of Conventional Query Planning . . . 89
6.2 Merge Operators . . . 90
6.3 Revised Logical Query Planning . . . 95
6.4 Related Work . . . 99
6.5 Summary . . . 99

7 Completeness of Data . . . 101
7.1 A Completeness Measure for Sources . . . 102
7.2 A Completeness Measure for Plans . . . 106
7.3 Properties of the Measures . . . 114
7.4 Other Overlap Situations . . . 118
7.5 Related Work . . . 119
7.6 Summary . . . 121

8 Completeness-Driven Query Optimization . . . 123
8.1 Completeness Maximization . . . 124
8.2 Maximizing Coverage . . . 126
8.3 Maximizing Completeness . . . 143
8.4 Algebraic Reordering . . . 147
8.5 Summary . . . 148

Part IV. Discussion

9 Conclusion . . . 153
9.1 Summary . . . 153
9.2 Further Applications for IQ-reasoning . . . 155
9.3 An Appeal . . . 157
