

A
385682

K2
32

Jeremy Baskes ✓

Indians, Merchants, and Markets

A REINTERPRETATION
OF THE Repartimiento AND
SPANISH-INDIAN ECONOMIC RELATIONS IN COLONIAL
OAXACA, 1750-1821

Stanford University Press
Stanford, California
(2000)

Contents

List of Tables

List of Illustrations

Acknowledgments

Note on Abbreviations and Conventions

1. Introduction 1
2. The Repartimiento and the Production of Cochineal 9
3. The Repartimiento and Crown Politics 39
4. Coerced or Voluntary? Market Participation of Indians 62
5. Informal Credit Institutions and Cross-Cultural Trade 93
6. A Risky Business: Credit and Default in the Dye Trade 110
7. Indians and Markets 128
8. Oaxaca to London: A Balance Sheet 138
9. Epilogue 185

Appendixes

- A. Prices Paid for Oaxacan Posts as Alcalde Mayor by District 193
- B. Annual Output, Price, and Value of Cochineal in Oaxaca, 1758–1858 205
- C.1. Returns to the Alcalde Mayor of Teposcolula, 1781–1784 (assuming no defaults) 208
- C.2. Returns to the Alcalde Mayor of Teposcolula, 1781–1784 (assuming 25 percent default) 212
- D. Insurance Rates for Selected Transatlantic Routes 216

Contents

- E.1. Estimated Cost of Marketing One Arroba of Cochineal from Oaxaca to London (assuming 20 percent wartime insurance premiums and excluding ocean freight and intra-European insurance) 221
- E.2. Estimated Cost of Marketing One Arroba of Cochineal from Oaxaca to London (assuming 50 percent wartime insurance premiums and excluding ocean freight and intra-European insurance) 227

Notes 233

Bibliography 283

Index 299