URBAN MINDSCAPES
OF EUROPE

Edited by Godela Weiss-Sussex

with
Franco Bianchini

Amsterdam, New York, NY 2006
CONTENTS

Authors in this volume 9

FRANCO BIANCHINI

METHODOLOGY AND CONCEPT FORMATION

ROLF LINDNER
The Gestalt of the Urban Imaginary 35

JUDE BLOOMFIELD
Researching the Urban Imaginary: Resisting the Erasure of Places 43

BETTY NIGIANNI
‘An Avenue that Looks Like Me’: Re-presenting the Modern Cityscape 63

GIANDOMENICO AMENDOLA
Urban Mindscapes Reflected in Shop Windows 81

NICOLAS WHYBROW
Encountering the City: On ‘Not Taking Yourself With You’ 97

CULTURAL REPRESENTATION OF THE CITY

NEAL ALEXANDER
Strange City: Belfast Gothic 113

KEITH WILLIAMS
‘Seeing the Future’: Urban Dystopia in Wells and Lang 127
BARRY LANGFORD
Strangers (to) Themselves: Cityscapes and Mindscapes in 1980s European Cinema

HUGH O'DONNELL
Once in TV's Royal City:
Television Coverage of Royal Media Events

MATTHEW REASON
Cartoons and the Comic Exposure of the European City of Culture

LEVENTE POLYÁK
Drifting Bridges: Semantic Changes of the Bridge Metaphor in Twentieth-Century Budapest

STUART PRICE
Reconstructing the Ancient City:
Imagining the Athenian Polis

APPLICATIONS OF THE CONCEPT OF URBAN MINDSCAPES

KLAUS SIEBENHAAR
The Myth of Berlin: the Imagined and the Staged City

GODELA WEISS-SUSSEX
Berlin Literature and its Use in the Marketing of the 'New Berlin'

DORIS TESKE
Sites and Sights: the Urban Museum
in a Changing Urban Structure

LIA GHILARDI
Identity by Invocation or by Design?
How Planning is Conjuring up a New Identity for Malmö

PAUL BROOKES, interviewed by FRANCO BIANCHINI
Confessions of a Place Marketer  