

B 17031 ding

Kz 28

Mexico Megacity

James B. Pick
and Edgar W. Butler

Westview Press
A Division of HarperCollins Publishers

(1997)

Contents

	List of Figures	ix
	List of Maps	xi
	List of Tables	xv
	Preface	xvii
	Acknowledgments	xviii
1.	OVERVIEW	1
	Introduction 2
	Theoretical Perspectives 3
	Mexico Database Project 7
	Methodology 8
	Mexico Megacity Geographic Information System (GIS) 9
	Megacity Variables 12
	Base Maps 13
	Preliminary Cluster Analysis 19
	Summary 27
2.	URBANIZATION IN MEXICO	29
	Introduction 30
	Historical Urban Growth in Mexico 30
	Population and Urban Growth: 1821-1990 30
	Urbanization Between 1930 and 1990 32
	Urban Population in 1990 32
	Large Cities of Mexico 39
	A System of Cities 43
	United States-Mexican Border States and Cities 46
	Future Urbanization in Mexico 50
3.	POPULATION OF MEXICO MEGACITY	51
	Introduction 52
	Historical Population Growth of Mexico Megacity 52
	Mexico City as a Primate City 55
	Mexico Megacity Population Characteristics 56
	Population Size 56
	Population Growth 57
	Population Density 58
	Age Structure 58
	Dependency Ratio 59
	Sex Ratio 59
	Cuauhtemoc, Nezahualcoyotl, and Mexico City's Most Populated Areas 80
	Population Cluster Analysis 83
	Future Population Growth of Mexico Megacity 86

4.	MARRIAGE, FERTILITY, AND FAMILY	87
	Introduction 88
	Marriage and Free Union 88
	Separation and Divorce 97
	Fertility 100
	Urbanism/Familism Cluster Analysis 110
	Conclusions 114
5.	MIGRATION	115
	Introduction 116
	Correlations of Migration Characteristics 117
	Native and Foreign Born Population 124
	Nativity 124
	Percent Foreign Born 124
	Immigration Flows Between the Two Megacity States 127
	Immigration in the Past Five Years 133
	Immigration from Major States and Regions 136
	Immigration Streams Into and Out of the Megacity 140
	Conclusions 144
6.	MORTALITY AND HEALTH	145
	Introduction 146
	Historical Mortality Change 147
	Causes of Death 151
	Diet 155
	Megacity Patterns of Mortality 157
	Mortality Correlation Analysis 160
	Medical and Health Care and Benefits 164
	Conclusions 171
7.	ENVIRONMENT AND HOUSING	173
	Introduction 174
	Correlations of Neighborhood and Housing Dimensions 176
	Neighborhood and Housing Dimensions 181
	Crowding 181
	Housing Without Electricity 181
	Housing Without Running Water 181
	Housing Without Toilet and Drainage 182
	Use of Firewood and Coal for Heating and Cooking 182
	Municipios with the Most Neighborhood and Housing Deficits 186
	Housing Cluster Analysis 191
	Water 194
	Solid Waste 199
	Air Pollution 202
	Introduction 202
	Sources of Air Pollution 202
	Air Quality Monitoring 203
	Distribution of Air Pollution 204
	Air Pollution Control Strategies 210
	Conclusions 211

8.	SOCIOECONOMIC CHARACTERISTICS	213
	Introduction 214
	Literacy 214
	Primary and Higher Education 220
	Socioeconomic Level 224
	Marginality 224
	High Level Income 224
	Indigenous Language 231
	Religion 238
	Automobiles 241
	Crime 242
	Home Ownership 247
	Social Rank Cluster Analysis 248
9.	THE ECONOMY	251
	Introduction 252
	Twentieth Century Economic Development 253
	Public Finance 260
	Industry 262
	Commerce 271
	Communications and Services 275
	Private Education, Medical Services, and the Third Sector 281
	Economic Variable Correlations 283
	Economic Cluster Analysis 286
	Conclusions 290
10.	LABOR FORCE AND LABOR MARKET	291
	Introduction 292
	Labor Force Characteristics Correlations 292
	Economic Activity 298
	Occupational Sector Structure of the Labor Force 304
	Professional, Technical, Managerial Occupations 310
	Employment 311
	Labor Concerns and Settlement 313
	Labor Force Age Structure and Labor Force Projections 318
	Conclusions 321
11.	ECONOMIC TRANSFORMATION IN MEXICO MEGACITY	323
	Introduction 324
	Corporate and Legal Historical Background 324
	Corporate Background 324
	Legal Background 325
	The Mexican 500 in 1986 327
	Data Sources 327
	Concentration by State 327
	Within State Concentration 328
	TNCs and the Mexican 500 in 1986 328
	Changes in the Mexican 500: 1986-1993 334
	Concentration by State 334
	Concentration in Mexico Megacity 334

	TNCs and the Mexican 500 in 1993	334
	Privatization	335
	Foreign Owned Mexican 500: 1986 and 1993	335
	Mexico Megacity as a Global City	336
	Conclusions	346
12.	SPATIAL STRUCTURE OF MEXICO MEGACITY	347
	Introduction	348
	Methodology	348
	Broad Spatial Structure: Key Zones	352
	Comparison and Relevance of Key Zones	355
	Key Zones and Population Growth 1950-1970	355
	Key Zones and Population Growth 1970-1990	355
	Social Rank and Urbanism/Familism	361
	Ethnicity as a Contrasting Pattern	365
	Conclusions	368
13.	MEXICO MEGACITY IN THE FUTURE	369
	Introduction	370
	Policy Alternatives	373
	Population	374
	Environmental Management	375
	Land Use and Physical Planning	375
	Multifunctional and Societal Planning	376
	Evaluation of Policy Decisions, Feedback, and Adjustments	377
	Research Priorities	379
	An Overview of Mexico Megacity	380
	Idealized Model of Mexico Megacity	381
	Theoretical Implications	382
	Future Population Growth	384
	Appendix: Definitions of Variables	387
	References	391
	Index	405
	About the Book and Authors	412