

VOLUME TWO, BOOK THREE

*Cartography in the Traditional African, American, Arctic,
Australian, and Pacific Societies*

Edited by
DAVID WOODWARD
and
G. MALCOLM LEWIS

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Preface, David Woodward	xix
1 Introduction, David Woodward and G. Malcolm Lewis	1
Definitions	1
Cognitive Cartography	3
Performance Cartography	4
Material Cartography	5
Overlaps and Inconsistencies	5
Problems and Issues	7
Reversing the Marginalization of Maps	9
Traditional Cartography in Africa
2 Cartographic Content of Rock Art in Southern Africa, Tim Maggs	13
The Hunter-Gatherer Art	14
The Agriculturist Engravings	17
Conclusion	23
3 Indigenous Mapmaking in Intertropical Africa, Thomas J. Bassett	24
Cosmographic Maps	25
Mnemonic Maps	30
Solicited Maps	33
African Influences on European Mapmaking	38
European Influences on African Mapmaking	41
Conclusion	48
Traditional Cartography in the Americas
4 Maps, Mapmaking, and Map Use by Native North Americans, G. Malcolm Lewis	51
Precontact, Contact, and Postcontact Maps	51
Native Words for "Map"	52
The Importance of Cosmography	53
Access and Conservation	54
Historiography	55
Approach	57
Terrestrial Maps in Rock Art	57
Rock Art of Cosmographical and Celestial Subjects	63
Northeast	66
Southeast	94
Far West	106
Great Plains and Canadian Prairies	115
Subarctic	135
Arctic	154
Cartographic Affinities between the Eurasian and American Arctic and Subarctic Regions	170
Concluding Themes	172
5 Mesoamerican Cartography, Barbara E. Mundy	183
Introduction	183
What Is a Mesoamerican Map?	184
Historiography	190
Mesoamerican Maps and the Spatialization of Time	191
Types of Mesoamerican Maps	204
Continuations of Native Mapping after the Conquest	240
Conclusion	247
6 Mapmaking in the Central Andes, William Gustav Gartner	257
Andean Conceptions of Space and Geographic Relations: Past and Present	258
Rock Art	270
A Chronological Perspective on Andean Mapmaking in the Archaeological Record	271
Inka Mapmaking	284
Conclusion	297
7 Indigenous Cartography in Lowland South America and the Caribbean, Neil L. Whitehead	301
Theoretical Considerations	302
Native Celestial and Cosmological Mapping	304
Historical Reports of Indigenous Mapmaking	319
Europeans' Inclusion of Native Information	322
Conclusion	325

Traditional Cartography in Arctic and Subarctic Eurasia

8 Traditional Cartography in Arctic and Subarctic Eurasia, Elena Okladnikova 329

- Evidence of Mapping in Prehistory 330
- Cosmographical and Celestial Maps 332
- Terrestrial Mapmaking and Maps 338
  - Historical Accounts of Mapmaking
(with Boris Polevoy) 338
  - Maps on Wood and Bark 340
  - Decorative and Trade Maps 344
- Conclusion 348

Traditional Cartography in Australia

9 Icons of Country: Topographic Representations in Classical Aboriginal Traditions, Peter Sutton 353

- Introduction 353
- The Range of Artifacts 354
- Concepts 360
- Means and Interpretations 366
- Rock Paintings and Engravings 374
- Regional Examples 375
- Conclusion 384

10 Aboriginal Maps and Plans, Peter Sutton 387

- Major Collections of Aboriginal Maps 387
- Smaller Scholarly Collections 399
- Aboriginal Maps in the Land Claims Era:
Nicholson River Land Claim 405
- Mud Maps and Sand Drawings 405
- Plans 408
- Aboriginal Maps: Politics and the Law 413

Traditional Cartography in the Pacific Basin

11 The Pacific Basin: An Introduction, Ben Finney 419

12 Traditional Cartography in Papua New Guinea, Eric Kline Silverman 423

- Social Life, Cosmology, and Politics in Melanesia 423

Are There Maps in Melanesia? 425

Melanesian Maps 425

Conclusion 442

13 Nautical Cartography and Traditional Navigation in Oceania, Ben Finney 443

- Mental Cartography 443
- The European Penetration of Remote Oceania 444
- Early Charts Drawn by European Explorers and Missionaries 446
- An Outline of Oceanic Navigation and Cartography 454
- The Issue of Navigational Accuracy 460
- Caroline Island Navigation and Cartography 461
- Piloting by Swell Pattern Disruptions in the Marshall Islands 475
- Did Oceanic Navigators Use Navigational Instruments?
485
- Colonization, Continuity, and Connections 487

14 Māori Cartography and the European Encounter, Phillip Lionel Barton 493

- Cultural Attributes with Affinities to Mapping 495
- European Accounts of Māori Maps and Mapping 500
- Extant Māori Maps and Derivatives of
Māori Maps 508
- Conclusion 530

15 Concluding Remarks, David Woodward and G. Malcolm Lewis 537

- Topological Structure 537
- Secular and Sacred 538
- Cosmos, Circle, and Center 538
- Landscape and Event 539
- Closeness to the Human Lifeworld 540
- The Way Ahead 541

Editors, Authors, and Project Staff 542

Bibliographical Index 543

General Index, Ellen D. Goldlust-Gingrich 579